

SHERRY AMOS leads the Industry Strategy group for SAP Public Services markets. She is responsible for developing SAP market and solution strategies for federal, defense, intel, state and local, higher education, and healthcare industries in the U.S.

Sherry brings over 20 years experience to her role with SAP, having previously held executive positions serving government, education, and commercial markets in the technology industry.

Prior to joining SAP, Sherry was vice president of industry strategy for education and government with PeopleSoft. She also led global R&D programs for health and human services solutions for Unisys, and served as director of Oracle's product management team for federal government solutions. Sherry began her career in accounting and finance as a finance director in higher Education. Sherry brings an experienced perspective to her role with SAP Public Services markets having introduced many new industry specific applications utilizing modern technologies to solve changing business needs.