

MICHAEL A. BILLO is assistant director of information technology audits for the Pennsylvania Department of the Auditor General. Mike received his B.S. in business administration from Shippensburg University in 1979 majoring in accounting. He worked in private industry as an accounting systems analyst for four years prior to his 25 years with Pennsylvania's Auditor General's Department.

Mike is a certified information systems auditor, a certified government audit professional, and a certified fraud examiner. He is a past president of the Harrisburg chapter of the Information Systems Audit and Control Association. Mike has served on a National State Auditors Association peer review team and as a presenter in IT audit issues for his employer, ISACA, and at NSAA conferences. He is currently vice-chairman of NSAA's E-Government Committee.