

Drummond Kahn, M.S., CIA, CGFM

Drummond has served as Director of the City of Portland's Audit Services Division since February 2005. As Portland's Director of Audit Services, Drummond supervises all the audit projects completed by the division - managing a diverse professional staff of auditors in carrying out the audits of City government programs and offices. Prior to joining the City of Portland, Drummond served since 1990 in State and Federal government auditing positions, including service as Chief of Audit Services for the Oregon Department of Transportation (2000-2005), State Audit Administrator for the Oregon Audits Division (1998-2000), and in the United States General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress. In 2009, Drummond also served as the Interim Director of the Oregon Audits Division.

Drummond serves on the Board of Directors of ALGA, the Editorial Board of the Journal of Government Financial Management, AGA's Financial Management Standards Board, and the GAO's Advisory Council on Government Auditing Standards. He served on the Board of Directors of the Pacific Northwest Intergovernmental Audit Forum, is a Past-President of the Association of Government Accountants' Portland Chapter, and served on AGA's National Committee on State and Local Government. Drummond holds a master's degree from the University of Oregon and a bachelor's degree from Whitman College.
