

Gary Lambert is a vice president within CGI's Spend Management Solutions practice. In this role, he serves as the subject matter expert in the area of public sector spend management, procurement, and enterprise resource planning. In particular, he is the solutions architect for the Commonwealth of Virginia's nationally recognized, award-winning eVA eprocurement system and serves as the executive advisor to a variety of government clients on strategic sourcing and procurement transformation. Before joining CGI, Mr. Lambert spent nearly 20 years working in Massachusetts government, nine as the chief operating officer for the Massachusetts Operational Services Division.