

ROSS TAYLOR holds a B.S. in accounting and finance as well as a master's degree in business administration. He was appointed state comptroller and director of finance in December of 2005. Prior to that, he served as deputy director of finance for four years. Prior to coming to work for the state of West Virginia, the majority of his work experience was in banking. Most recently, he was the CEO of the Ravenswood Federal Credit Union, a $132 million dollar financial institution.

He oversees the day-to-day operations of the Finance Division, including the single audit, statewide cost allocation plan, West Virginia Financial Information Management System (WVFIMS), comprehensive annual financial report, and the Department of Administration's payroll.