

KIRK TEAL is a partner in the consulting firm, Salvaggio, Teal & Associates (STA). He specializes in IT strategic planning, and in assisting public sector organizations in the acquisition and implementation of new ERP systems. Kirk has considerable experience in assisting state and local governments in evaluating ERP software products and implementation services offerings. He has worked on numerous state government administrative systems projects, including statewide ERP projects for the states of Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Texas.

Kirk graduated from the University of Texas at Austin, where he earned a bachelor of business administration degree in accounting. He is licensed as a certified public accountant in the state of Texas and is certified as a project management professional by the Project Management Institute.