NSAA President Dianne Ray recently welcomed state auditors to Colorado for the thirty-eighth annual conference of the National State Auditors Association. The conference was held June 14-16 at the Park Hyatt Beaver Creek and featured a record attendance of nearly 150, including 37 principal state auditors and representation from 43 member offices. The conference was preceded on June 13 by a day of meetings of NSAA’s committees.

TECHNICAL AGENDA & OTHER ACTIVITIES

The conference featured two roundtable sessions and several general sessions covering a diverse range of topics. PowerPoint presentations and speaker bios from the conference are available at www.nasact.org/2016_nsaa_materials. A complete list of the session titles and speakers can be found on page 2.

AWARDS & RESOLUTIONS

An awards lunch was held on Wednesday, June 15. President Ray announced the winner of the 2016 NSAA William R. Snodgrass Distinguished Leadership Award: Elaine Howle, state auditor of California.

Greg Hook, deputy legislative auditor of Maryland and chairman of NSAA’s Excellence in Accountability Awards Committee, announced this year’s Excellence in Accountability Award winners. Receiving those awards were:

Large Performance Audit
- South Carolina Legislative Audit Council

Small Performance Audit
- Massachusetts Office of the Auditor of the Commonwealth

Special Project
- Washington State Auditor’s Office

Forensic Report
- North Carolina Office of the State Auditor

Several resolutions were approved by members at the annual June business meeting:
1. Thanking President Ray for her service.
2. Wishing Bob Peterson, state auditor of North Dakota, well upon his retirement.
3. Wishing Tori Hunthausen, legislative auditor of Montana, well upon her retirement.
5. Wishing Gary Blackmer, previous director of Oregon’s Division of audits, well upon his retirement.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

NSAA wishes to thank all those who helped with the conference, especially Dianne Ray and staff from her office. Active involvement by the state audit community is the reason for the success of the event: thanks to all who participated and attended.

Last but not least, thanks to this year’s conference sponsors: ACL, Arbutus Software, Bronner Group, CliftonLarsonAllen, Eide Bailly, Governing Magazine and TeamMate.

The Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association has sent a letter to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission urging it to amend Rule 15c2-12 governing municipal securities disclosure. SIFMA believes that:

“SEC amendment or interpretation of Rule 15c2-12 would be a more comprehensive avenue for ensuring that information regarding direct purchases of securities and bank loans entered into by issuers is consistently and uniformly reported to the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board’s EMMA website and made transparent to the market.”

The June 9 letter requests that the SEC develop a proposal to amend Rule 15c2-12 and release additional guidance. The letter also refers to the SEC’s 2012 report on the municipal securities market and its reference to several areas that need amendment. The letter, though brief in nature and not specific on areas to amend, directs the SEC to a SIFMA white paper, previously submitted to the SEC, which outlines opportunities for improvement in the current disclosure framework.

The SIFMA white paper provides background on municipal disclosure and Rule 15c2-12 and states that the experience of many market participants in the Municipal Continuing Disclosure Cooperative (MCDC) Initiative has highlighted aspects of the rule that may be outdated or could be more efficient, as well as the need for revised or new guidance on compliance with the rule.

The white paper specifically mentions a number of areas needing amendment, including technical changes such as deletion of the reference to rating changes in 15c2-12(b)(5)(i)(C)(11), which is no longer necessary in light of ratings information being integrated with other details about a security or issue on EMMA. The white paper also makes a number of other recommendations, such as:

- An interpretation of “primary offering” as defined in 15c2-12(f)(7). Confusion in the market exists about the meaning of the term.
- An amendment to the existing interpretation of the phrase in 15c2-12(b)(5)(ii)(C) “specify the date on which the annual financial information for the preceding fiscal year will be provided” to require statement of a date certain, together with guidance on harmonizing new with existing continuing disclosure agreements.
- An interpretation of the following phrase in the 15c2-12(f)(3) definition of final official statement: “any instances in the previous five years in which each person... failed to comply, in all material respects, with any previous undertakings.” Has the Commission, in interpreting the meaning of “failed to comply, in all material respects” with the CDA applied state law or federal securities law?
- Guidance on the vitality of the six factors enumerated in the Interpretation of Underwriter Responsibilities, including competitive bids.
- Guidance on the responsibilities of municipal advisors, a category of regulated persons that did not exist when the core provisions of the rule and the Interpretation of Underwriter Responsibilities were articulated.
- Guidance to issuers and obligated persons as to their responsibilities under the antifraud provisions of federal securities laws in complying with their CDAs and when certifying that “an official statement is a final official statement as defined in Rule 15c2-12.” What considerations come into play for an issuer or obligated person with respect to the inclusion of “any instances in the previous five years in which each person... failed to comply, in all material respects, with any previous undertakings” in a final official statement?

The letter and white paper are just a few of the initiatives underway at SIFMA. The group is also spearheading a work group looking at how disclosure compliance can be improved. The work group (which includes NASACT and other organizations with an interest in a well-functioning municipal market) identified several areas worthy of additional discussion and focus including:

- Leveraging the financial audit process as a means of monitoring issuer compliance with continuing disclosure obligations and reminding issuers who may have failed to make required filings to do so (SIFMA has just undertaken a 50-state review of laws and regulations that govern local government disclosure, issuance and audit).
- Recommending to the MSRB ways to improve the EMMA system, potentially including...

NASRA COMPLETES REVIEW OF STATE PENSION REFORMS

With assistance from the American Association of Retired Persons, the National Association of State Retirement Administrators recently completed a comprehensive review of state pension reforms since the Great Recession. The report, Significant Reforms to State Retirement Systems, found this to be the greatest period of change in the history of public pensions.

While there were no one-size-fits-all solutions, virtually every state made modifications to one or more of its retirement plans. The report includes individual state pages summarizing the changes in each plan, as well as an overview of themes across states, including:

- Nearly every state reduced benefits, increased contributions, or both. Most did so while retaining the traditional pension plan:
  1. Thirty-six states increased the amount that employees are required to contribute to the pension plan.
  2. Twenty-nine states increased eligibility requirements for retirement, which typically took the form of an increase in age, years of employment, or a combination of both to qualify for retirement.
  3. Thirty states reduced cost-of-living adjustments.
- Most of the reforms transferred a higher share of the risk associated with providing retirement benefits from the state or local government to its employees.
- States overwhelmingly retained core features aimed at balancing the objectives of retirement security, workforce management and cost containment sought by stakeholders, namely: mandatory participation, employee/employer shared financing, pooled investments, lifetime benefit payouts, integrated survivor and disability benefits, and supplemental savings.
- A number of state plans had self-adjusting features that did not require legislative changes, but nevertheless altered financing and benefit levels. In some cases, these automatic adjustments were more significant than legislative pension reforms.
- Reforms enacted in one state were not necessarily appropriate for another. Generally, states made modifications to their pension plans commensurate with the extent of their fiscal issues, to ensure the long-term sustainability of the plan.

better structuring and organizing disclosure documents so that users can more easily find relevant information and further develop the issuer disclosure filing email reminder function.

- Seeking guidance from the SEC on questions of the materiality of specific disclosure information.

GAO REVIEWS STATE AND FEDERAL EFFORTS TO COMBAT SNAP RECIPIENT FRAUD IN NEW REPORT

The U.S. Government Accountability Office has released a new report examining the fiscal accountability relationship between states and the federal government related to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). The report, “Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program: Enhanced Detection Tools and Reporting to Combat Recipient Fraud Are in Development,” examines some of the ongoing concerns GAO has with potential SNAP eligibility fraud, including:

- Prisoner verification to prevent receipt of SNAP benefits by incarcerated individuals.
- Checking the Social Security Administration’s death master file to prevent receipt of benefits by deceased individuals.
- Verifying information provided by applicants/recipients by matching with other data sources, such as local jails, schools and lists of lottery winners.

In fiscal year 2015, SNAP, the nation’s largest nutrition support program, provided about 46 million people with $70 billion in benefits. Fraud has been a long-standing concern in the program, and state agencies are responsible for addressing SNAP recipient fraud.

In this report, GAO looked at data in 11 states, and found that:

“Most of the selected states reported difficulties in conducting fraud investigations due to either reduced or stagnant staff levels while SNAP recipient numbers greatly increased from fiscal year 2009 through 2013. Furthermore, state investigators in all 11 states we reviewed were also responsible for pursuing fraud in other public assistance programs, such as Medicaid, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families and child care and housing assistance programs.”

Program integrity is not hindered by staffing issues alone, however, as GAO also found that the common fraud element of benefits trafficking may be found in the request for replacement cards:

“We identified 7,537 SNAP recipient households in these three selected states that both received replacement cards in four or more monthly benefit periods in fiscal year 2012, and made at least one transaction considered to be a potential sign of trafficking around the time of the replacement card issuance. We found that these 7,537 households made over $26 million in total purchases with SNAP benefits during fiscal year 2012… by comparing the number of benefit periods with replacement cards and the total number of transactions flagged for potential trafficking, states may be able to better identify those households that may be at higher risk of trafficking. This type of analysis may help provide a starting point for identifying higher priority households for further review.”

NASACT AND NAST RELEASE VOLUNTARY BEST PRACTICES FOR STABLE NAV LGIPs

NASACT and the National Association of State Treasurers recently released “Voluntary Guidelines for the Management of Stable Net Asset Value Local Government Investment Pools.”

These voluntary guidelines should assist state leaders with guidance for managing investment pools in a manner that provides both state and local government participants with investment options that, when prudently managed, provide safety of principal and liquidity.

OMB ALLOWS SMOOTHING OF MAJOR PROGRAMS
NSAA sent a letter to the U.S. Office of Management and Budget on May 6 saying that state auditors believe that OMB should allow auditors to “smooth” major program selection of low-risk Type A programs over a three-year period beginning with 2016 single audits. Allowing the “smoothing” technique will prevent auditors from having a heavy major program testing load in year three of implementation of the Uniform Guidance and will provide for more consistent usage of staffing and resources.

On June 15, smoothing of major programs as requested was approved by OMB.

To see the draft language for consideration and NSAA’s letter, go to www.nasact.org.

AUDITING IN THE STATES: NOW AVAILABLE IN MEMBERS ONLY
The 2016 edition of Auditing in the States: A Summary, NSAA’s data book on the functions within state audit offices, is now available. Members may view the publication for free in the Members Only section of the website. Others wishing to find out more about obtaining a copy may contact Glenda Johnson (gjohnson@nasact.org).

NSAA & NASC TECHNICAL SERVICES
State auditor and state comptroller offices recently received their annual technical services assessments in the mail. The fees collected through the technical services programs provide valuable services including the technical inquiry network, information sharing groups, data books on the state auditors and comptrollers, and enhancements to NASACT’s website related specifically to the activities of state auditors and state comptrollers.

Questions about the technical services assessments may be directed to Sherri Rowland (NSAA: srowland@nasact.org) and Kim O’Ryan (NASC: koryan@nasact.org).

NASACT ANNOUNCES WEBINAR: GASB REVIEW 2016

GASB REVIEW 2016
Wednesday, July 13
2:00 - 3:50 p.m. Eastern

As the fiscal year-end for most state governments quickly approaches and a new year begins, it is an opportune time for financial statement preparers and auditors to get a refresher on standards that will be effective for June 30, 2016, financial statements, as well as recently released GASB statements that will require attention in fiscal year 2017.

For 2016, these statements include the following:
- Statement 72—Fair Value—Measurement and Application
- Statement 73—Pensions—Related Assets (outside the scope of Statements 67 and 68) and Statements 67 and 68 Amendments
- Statement 76—GAAP Hierarchy
- Statement 79—External Investment Pools
- Implementation Guide—2015-1

Statements effective for 2017 are:
- Statement 73—Pensions—Employers (outside the scope of Statement 68)
- Statement 74—Other Postemployment Benefits (OPEB) Plan Reporting
- Statement 77—Tax Abatements Disclosures
- Statement 78—Pensions Provided Through Certain Multiple-Employer Defined Benefit Pension Plans
- Statement 80—Blending Requirements for Certain Component Units
- Statement 82—Pension Issues
- Implementation Guide—2016-1

Other recently issued GASB statements that will be covered include:
- Statement 75—OPEB—Employers
- Statement 81—Irrevocable Split-Interest Agreements

Cost: $299 for groups (unlimited attendance) and $50 for individuals.
- Use promo code INDWEB to receive the discounted individual rate of $50.
